U. S. POLICY MAINTAINED

Similarly by the adoption of Secretary Hughes' proposal in the Far Eastern committee yesterday, the American, Japanese and Chinese declaration on the "twenty-one demands" question, discussion of which was concluded with final adjournment of the committee were to be spread on the conference record.

Stating the position of the United States, Secretary Hughes declared its "historic policy" in its relation to China as set forth in its note to the Chinese and Japanese governments of May 13, 1915, "has been and still is, consistently maintained." The note was read into the record, stating the United States could not recognize any agreement or undertaking entered into between China and Japan which impaired the rights of the United States in China, the political or territorial integrity of China, or the "open door" policy.

Regarding the conference agreements as an accomplished fact, the administration today already was taking steps looking to suspension of work on the thirteen battleships and battle cruisers destined for the scrap heap. Altho President Harding does not plan to begin the actual scrapping process until the naval treaty is ratified by the powers, he has asked the navy department for information as to the status of construction work on which to base a suspension order.

WASHINGTON PARLEY TO COMPLETE WORK TODAY

PACTS WILL BE SIGNED UP MONDAY

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press) — Exactly twelve weeks from the day it met, the Washington conference on limitation of armament and far eastern questions, was called in plenary session today to make the final entry on its record of accomplishments and then hear an appraisal of these in farewell addresses by the chief delegates of the participating powers.

Formal approval of the two far eastern treaties and a number of resolutions relating to China was on the program facing the actual windup of the conference work to-day, altho another public session will be held Monday at which the conference treaties will be signed and sealed, followed by a brief valedictory address by President Harding.

One of the treaties completed for approval today deals with revision of the Chinese tariff and the other embodies the Root "four points" and the open door policy. In addition to the resolutions relating to China, several other agreements and declarations were embodied in the series of conference resolutions for formal adoption today. These included the project to call another international conference to revise the rules of war and the declarations made here by the United States and Japan regarding Siberia.

JACKSON CHANGED MIND; DECIDES HE WOULD NOT HAVE POLICE CHIEF JOB

Friends of Judge Emmett Jackson in Marion offered their congratulations Saturday on his candidacy for the chief of police job in Lima. Almost every employee in the Richland-tp court house, from dog catcher on up, attached his signature to the epistle.

The judge will have to disappoint them, however, as he said, as he declares he will not accept if the job is tendered him.

THIS ISN'T A DOLL; IT'S A BABY

No. Thos. F. Doyle of Seattle, shown here, isn't holding a doll. It's his daughter, Patricia, Mary Doyle. She's three months old and weighs three pounds. Despite her size, Patricia Mary was born under normal circumstances and is everything a normal baby should be at her age.

MAY CHOOSE OUTSIDER AS POLICE HEAD

An outsider, from a metropolitan police department, may be selected to head the Lima force, Manager C. A. Bingham declared Saturday.

Bingham stated that neither he nor the commission has spent much thought on the selection to date and it was denied that a new chief was chosen to succeed Morton F. Dawson, acting head of the department.

A new chief must be selected, members of the commission feel, to end animosities engendered from the feud which culminated in the removal of former Chief O. J. Roush.

GUANTANAMO, CUBA — (Associated Press) — The Atlantic fleet steamed into Guantnamo Bay today and anchored off the naval base that for more than a score of years has been the winter playground and training camp for Yankee sailors. Here the gobs and their officers will remain until April, working a bit and having the play that keeps Jack a bright and snappy boy.

None of the sailors had put foot on land since January 3, when their ships went to sea for the annual cruise in southern waters, until launched came chugging to shore today. Admiral Hilary P. Jones, commander of the fleet, was waiting aboard his flagship Columbia in the harbor when the fighting craft plowed into the bay from the Guancanayabo gulf, 180 miles westward, where since January 10, everyone has been busy with gunnery exercises, engineering trials and torpedo firing.

The commander's aid to key up every man to the highest pitch of efficiency and fitness will be carried out here by torpedo practice, spotting, turret drills and night fire rehearsals aboard ship, while on shore, baseball and other sports will give the sailors plenty of recreation.

LIBERTY OF GOBS

Every gob is a man among men and men only from now until April. The station embraces 50 square miles in the Guantanambo valley along the Southern coastline of Cuba not far from the eastern tip of the island. Liberty does not mean a trip "to town," the cafes and theatres, but freedom to sport and play at outdoor games beneath a balmy sky.

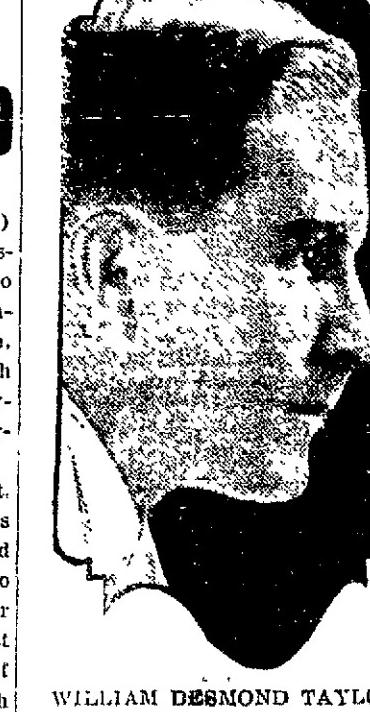

There is no "town" to go to. Manzanillo is the nearest sizable place of habitation and it is too far away for the sailors to visit while on liberty.

CUPID'S JOB COMPLETED DAY AHEAD

MURDERED MOVIE DIRECTOR

WILLIAM DESMOND TAYLOR

SLAIN MOVIE MAN FATHER OF GIRL, 14

CHICAGO — (Associated Press)

Chapters in the life of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director who was slain in Los Angeles Wednesday night, were described today by friends who said they knew all inquiry there this morning failed to bring any response.

LATEST CHAPTER

The hasty, hushed marriage last evening and the subsequent disappearance of the two is the latest chapter in this modern romance which makes the former Mrs. Marion Buckingham Ream Stephen, one of the heirs to a great estate, the bride of a penniless Russian youth, almost 22 years her junior. After Vonsiatsky had joined Mrs. Stephens on her arrival here they went to the Russian church yesterday afternoon, apparently to complete arrangements for today's wedding.

After being closeted with Father Kurnick for half an hour, they hurried to Fifth-av, where they took a bus ride, later going to the home of Mrs. Stephens' brother. With no one on the watch, they slipped off to the church at eight o'clock last evening and the ceremony was performed and the couple were off for their train before the outside world knew what had occurred. The ceremony was hurried, informal with only the bride's relatives as witnesses.

MAY CHOOSE OUTSIDER AS POLICE HEAD

An experienced officer from outside the city, possibly a man who has held the grade of police captain in a large city, might meet the requirements he believes.

"We may have to bring someone here," he declared. "There would no doubt be some complaint and such selection might not prove popular."

No formal applications for the job have actually been made, the city manager declared. Most of the aspirants have left out the situation thru friends.

"I am surprised that some of them are after the job," said Bingham. "The number is increasing day by day since the first announcement."

Warren McLaughlin, insurance agent and Y. M. C. A. secretary overseas, is among applicants mentioned for the job, according to Bingham.

HUME IS MENTIONED

Another man frequently mentioned is Major Frank Hume, war veteran. Hume has been persistently rumored as the probable selection.

"I know nothing of police work," Hume said, "and haven't been offered the job so far. I don't know where the report originated."

Following the selection of a new chief of police, Manager Bingham stated that efforts will be made to reorganize the department along metropolitan lines.

He states there is excellent material among the officers. Some improvement has been made, by inauguration of the statoon system, Bingham holds.

KILTS GO TO ORIENT

CLUES TURN POLICE HUNT TO FILM STAR

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press) — Mystery surrounding the shooting to death in his Hollywood home of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, whose true name, it is alleged, was William Deane Tanner, remained unsolved today. Police working on the case since the body was found Thursday morning claimed, however, they possessed a number of possible clues and that suspicion was directed chiefly toward a young motion picture actress whose name they withhold, and thru her, toward another film director, likewise unnamed by them.

Revenge, with jealousy as the probable direct cause, was confirmed in the minds of some detectives, they said, as the motive for the killing. The closer the dead director's life was scrutinized, the detectives said, the more they were led to adhere to their original theory.

SEARCH FOR PAIR

The latest motion picture actress to be drawn into the investigation said at one time to have been intimately associated with Taylor was said to be out of the city, but police gave no intimation as to the whereabouts of the director whose name was linked with hers in the stories told the detectives by a number of persons at an inquiry extending over several hours.

While keen efforts were being made by the officers to locate the actress and the director, it was understood the latest angle to the investigation would not cause them to relax their search for Edward F. Sands, Taylor's former butler, said also to be known as Edward Fitzstratmoro and alleged to be a deserter from the army.

ACTRESS FRIENDS

Their review of Taylor's friendships and activities was said to have brought the police into close acquaintance with his companion ship with a number of motion picture actresses, including among the most prominent, Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter and Claire Windsor.

Miss Normand is said to have admitted, as did Nona Gerber, another film actress, that Taylor once had engaged to her, while Miss Minter also is said to have enjoyed the director's close friendship at one time. It was only a week before his death, however, according to Miss Windsor's mother, that the latter took her first automobile ride and dinner with Taylor.

Many stories have been brought to the police by neighbors of Taylor and his former employees concerning the neighborhood happenings the night of the crime, and the director's recent comings and goings, friends and associates, telephone calls and various social activities.

The Motion Picture Directors' association, of which Taylor was elected president three times, has formed a special investigating committee to help

MILLER IS HELD IN $1,000 BOND

Police Raid Apartment in Spring-st, in Liquor Hunt

Joe B. Miller, 63, of 132 1-2 E. Spring-st, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Emmett J. Jackson in criminal court, on a charge of manufacturing and possessing illicit liquor.

A raid made late Friday afternoon, at Miller's place, by a squad of officers, was productive of the finding of two stills and a large amount of liquor, police state. Thirty gallons of contraband stuff was taken in the Miller rooms, over the Fiske tire store. Much bubbling over, running onto the floor and leaking thru to the first floor, is said to have afforded a tip concerning the location of the miniature distillery.

Two copper stills were taken, police state. Miller was found in bed when the officers entered the place. Two barrels of mash, many bottles filled with liquor and all the necessary paraphernalia for complete distilling business, was disclosed, police assert.

Judge Jackson has 60 gallons of contraband liquor stored away in the vault in connection with his office, the fruits of two raids made recently by police. An inventory taken Saturday morning shows on hand a considerable amount of corn whisky, Pebbleford, Catawba and Canadian whisky, three kinds of wine, a quantity of beer, malt extract, prunes, raisins, coloring liquid and a host of odds and ends essential in the business, to say nothing of stills.

Some of the whisky tests high. A quantity is 75 to 92 proof stuff, the chemist's analysis shows. The beer shows an alcoholic content of four and a half per cent.

FIGHT TO RESUME

Rail Abandonment Before Utilities Board Wednesday

Efforts of Recovery B. J. Jones of the Ohio Electric, to discontinue service between Lima and Defiance will be resumed Wednesday when the public utilities commission will take up hearing of the application, at Columbus.

Solemn oaths have been issued to interested persons to be present and testify before the commission. A considerable delegation from Lima is planning to attend the hearing. Solicitor Paul T. Landis will be present, as official representative of the city. Manager C. A. Bingham may not attend, he stated.

The electric traction company wants to quit service on the contention that the line is losing money. Application was made to the public utilities commission to discontinue in November and several hearings were held at that time.

Residents along the route want service and are fighting the company's effort to abandon the line.

LID CLAMPED ON

Bowling, Pool Not Permitted on Sunday, Bingham Rules

The lid, alleged to have been raised by bowling alley and pool hall proprietors, was clamped on firmly by Manager Bingham Saturday.

Alleys and pool halls were open Sunday and proprietors had announced their intention of remaining open for business seven days a week from now on.

Their intentions were brought to attention of the commission and it was voted not to countenance operation of such places on Sunday.

Instructions were issued to the police department Saturday to close such halls as remain open on Sunday and to prosecute proprietors. The penalty is not more than a $100 fine.

Application of blue laws will not be extended to other places of amusement, Manager Bingham said.

BINGHAM ORDERS NIGHTLY INSPECTION OF THEATRES

Under orders of City Manager C. A. Bingham, nightly inspection of Lima theaters has been started, Fire Chief John Mack said Saturday.

Two firemen conduct an inspection tour to determine if fire exits and escapes are blocked and whether the playhouses are provided with fire extinguishers.

TAX AUDITORS TO BE APPOINTED

Hundreds Needed, Collector Herr is Advised

Collection of United States internal revenue taxes is a big job. S. P. Herr, deputy internal revenue collector, Federal building, was apprised Saturday in a statement from the civil service commission that more than 20,000 government employees are engaged in this work, 7,800 of whom are attached to the income Tax Unit. This latter figure includes more than 6,000 auditors and inspectors of income tax returns who are employed in Washington and in the field.

Notwithstanding this large force, the civil service commission states that the bureau of internal revenue needs several hundred more auditors and inspectors for the income tax unit, and that an examination to fill these positions will be held throughout the country on March 8. The entrance salaries offered range from $1,800 to $3,000 a year. Advancement will depend upon demonstrated efficiency.

New appointees are given a six-weeks course of training in the technicalities of the income tax law and are paid full salary during such instruction.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C., or from the civil service board at the post office.

Snyder said the entire service of Logan & Bryan will be put on here, including express service in New York stocks and grains.

FEBRUARY, SHORTEST OF MONTHS, IS PROLIFIC OF HISTORICAL INCIDENTS

Shortest of the year, but filled with more noted anniversaries than any other month—February.

Three Presidents of the United States, two of them best-loved figures in American history, were born in February. They were George Washington, February 22; Abraham Lincoln, February 12 and William Henry Harrison, February 9. Were you born in the same month?

Two great American poets first saw the light of day in February—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, born the 27 and James Russell Lowell, the 22. Did you make your debut in the same month as these literary geniuses?

Blowing up of the battleship Maine, precipitating the Spanish-American war, occurred February 14.

St. Valentine's day comes February 14. Were you a little valentine the same day?

Are you envious because you were not?

WARMER, RAIN, SNOW PREDICTED

It may be of interest to those who watch the outcome of weather forecasts to know that long range predictions had blizzards set up for this week-end. How far the prognostication failed you know by this time.

All efforts on the part of the weatherman during the week now closing, to squeeze moisture out of the air in the form of rain or snow, significantly failed, save on one day, but the forecaster is still at it, probably hoping to hit the ball if he persists a sufficient length of time.

For tonight we are promised rain or snow in the extreme west portion of Ohio, with higher temperature and the same sort of program on Sunday.

There are many misses in the weather forecast. However, it must be admitted that the scientifically arrived at advance predictions are very often correct. If they were not, all of us would lose faith in the government weather bureau.

When Baby Complains.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or distress from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry, restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful, in these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowel, that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has won the good will of the family physician in a measure not equalled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to babies.

Castoria always bears the signature of

They refused to hold up their hands and screamed. Hite fled after grabbing a wrap from the girl's shoulders. He was arrested Friday by Sheriff Wesley Lammers, who declared that he admitted his guilt. The girl identified him as her assailant, Lammers said.

OLD-TIMER RETURNS

SAUERKRAUT, after long interment as an alien enemy, is coming back into popularity strongly. So strongly, in fact, that it is the sensation of the food trades.

Those who dislike German chop-suey will sniff and say, "Strongly's right!"

Nevertheless, the return of the prodigal, no longer known as liberty cabbage, is refreshing news in this madhouse age of conferences, blocs, agendas, reparations and parleys.

It's another indication of recovery from the war and return to normalcy.

For normalcy without sauerkraut is as unappetizing as sauerkraut without frankfurters or spareribs.

INTERNATIONAL politics is important—at least, until viewed with the perspective of a long lapse of time.

In the long run, changes in a nation's diet get down deeper into the undercurrents of humanity.

If the Chinese were to stop eating rice, it would be infinitely more important than their diplomatic relations with Japan, for it would presage a lowering of the physique of the yellow race, now rising to rival the white man.

Many drank for many thousands of years. America suddenly kicked John Barleycorn out. Students 1000 years from now will recognize that prohibition brought a far greater change to Americans and their civilization than even the World War.

The things we eat and drink are the energies, good or bad, that run us. From them come our bodies, much of our mental powers or handicaps along with virtues and vices.

THIE Russian soldier on military duty has this for his week's food: Ten ounces of salt, 7 quarts of beer, 120 ounces of barley, 112 ounces each of meat and black bread and 122 ounces of sauerkraut.

Dieticians, talking in terms of calories, claim that kraut has a third more food value than chicken soup.

The real sauerkraut fans, however, are not much interested in calories. They ask few questions when they tackle kraut and its near relatives—pretzels, spareribs, cheese sandwiches and beer.

Possibly the real reason for sauerkraut's comeback is the rumor that its juice, at the proper age, has an alcoholic content that comes close to the Volstead deadline. Or is that just propaganda by cunning kraut manufacturers?

LOVE'S LOTTERY

DIVORCE lawyers in Sweden check up and discover that the third year is the "crisis" in married life. That's when mates are most likely to agree or disagree.

Sir George Lewis, England's fashionable divorce lawyer, says the danger period is between the seventh and tenth years.

Both of them are wrong. The real dangerous period in married life is before the knot is tied—when he or she picks the wrong mate.

Men and women are called on to make many important decisions in life, but none as vital as whom to marry. Many of us, in love's gamble, back the wrong card. One out of nine American weddings ends in divorce.

WHY HARD TIMES?

WHAT started this business depression? Long-haired economists advance different theories.

One theory is that prices and prosperity and hard times travel in cycles, like the teeth of a saw, roughly 20 years up, 30 years down. This theory is advanced by economists who have noted that panics come periodically.

Another theory is that people, during periods of prosperity, go on a spending jag. Then the thrift instinct, which makes squirrels hoard nuts for winter, asserts itself.

Psychologists step in at this point and talk about "social hysteria"—the emotional waves that periodically sweep a nation or the world and start wars, religious revivals, dancing epidemics and reform movements like prohibition.

Supporting this theory: The present world depression first showed itself, faintly, in India, early in 1920. It broke out violently in the Japanese silk market in March, 1920, traveled round the world, reached us two months later.

When all is said and done, the causes of hard times are spiritual.

Every action has an equal and counteracting reaction. There are rare exceptions, proving the rule, but the great underlying law of economics is what Emerson called the law of compensation—we get out of life no more than we give.

Honest value and hard work produce prosperity. After a while, prosperity makes many people reckless, greedy and dishonest. The reaction from this is hard times, sent by a wise Providence to cleanse our economic morals.

You've noticed that you're getting better quality now. That means, we're on the road back to good times.

There'd never be a panic if every one always gave honest value.

FIRE-EATERS

WILLIAM S. KENYON will retire from the Senate to become a United States circuit judge. In effect, this means he will retire from the spotlight.

Conservatives, who looked on Kenyon as a radical, will breathe a sigh of relief when he leaves the Senate.

If he runs true to precedent, watch him become a conservative. Nearly all so-called radicals become conservative when they get on the bench or in executive office.

The fires in the emotional furnace of a radical can be extinguished more quickly by giving him a high, responsible job than by sending him to jail.

PREDICTING QUAKES

EARTHQUAKES soon will be predicted, same as weather is forecast in advance, according to Professor A. C. Lawson of the University of California.

Predicting will be done by watching the "creep" of the earth—slight and gradual changes in latitude. These precede quakes.

Warned of coming quakes, inhabitants could speed away, returning to rebuild after the disaster.

NEON GAS

FOR 20 years neon gas has been an almost useless curiosity in the chemist's laboratory.

Now it will be put to work, in an improved spark detector for autoists, says a bulletin of American Chemical Society.

Every discovery made by man has potential usefulness, tho it may be useless when discovered and for years following.

The Einstein theory doesn't seem to be important in the average man's life. It isn't—now. Future will use it constantly. For it's the beginning of man's thinking in four dimensions instead of three.

JAZZ

JAZZ has become the national anthem, says Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, prominent Episcopal clergyman of New York.

He is right, but a few months behind.

Jazz was the national anthem. Now it's losing its grip, preparing to depart. Wholeness is slowly returning. America, distracted by the war, is getting control of its nerves again.

Plato, reporter for Socrates, said that whenever modes of music change, morals change.

Morals are getting better in America—especially business morals.

And here comes my wife, poor wretch, on her holiday from Red Crossing. And she first-hand complained of her crimsoned arms, due to overtime at the washer for her getaway. So by coach to the Hagan bakery and there found cots for the night.

To lunch at a passionate puppy parage hard by, and then to the shoppes. But neither Harding or Willies has started any retail probe hereabouts. Two hours of search failed to find anything that my wife could buy with the two brave dollars I gave her. So back, and then I again abroad. And met with Walter Tobey, the Hamilton publisher, he also being President of Miami University trustees. And his tyle was of two Lima students, whose semester grades were not of the best, and a friend of Peto Hulskens, the builder. And he optimistic for the long pull but not for quick turns. Met in the lobby C. T. Henderson, the advertising wizard, and we sat awhile. And the discourse was about candy, and how little candy factories are growing into monster money-makers thru advertising. And he asked me why Kellogg Sweets were not blazoning forth in publicity. "Everybody's eating candy instead of drinking," said he. "It's just making your brands a household diet. There's millions in candy in the next few years."

So back to the Mrs. Taft, there finding my wife cheered after viewing a picture she had seen twice before. "I always get fooled on that one," she said, poor wretch. Then dined with George Sawyer, the broker, who in Delphos lived, a choc parfait and so to bed.

YOST OF MICHIGAN FLAYS FOOTBALL BARNSTORMING

BY FIELDING H. YOST

(Michigan Football Coach)

COLLEGE football is being overdone in certain features.

I have reference particularly to the increasing number of post-season games that are being played.

The football season should end by the last Saturday of November. Ten weeks is plenty of football, 12 weeks at the outside.

Unless steps are taken to stop the unending competition, football is certain to lose caste with its supporters.

The recent tendency to go on trips across the continent resembles the "barnstorming" tours of the professional teams.

If this cross-country touring increases, the great American amateur game will soon degenerate into a contest to see which college can send its teams on the longest trips.

A few years ago only one team went. Now every school wants to go.

When will the procession end? Unless some check is put on this "going to the coast," it's going to be a mad scramble every fall to get the assignment.

I fear a reaction will set in from such long trips that will work to the great detriment of the game.

Too much football is making a lot of people lose sight of the main object of college training.

A great many people seem to think that students go to college to make the football team.

Men go to college for an education. This fact should be remembered. The university makes the football team possible, not the football team the university.

Post-season trips take entirely too much time from the player's studies. It seriously handicaps the college work of the athlete.

Long practice hours and days off for trips called for by the regular schedule makes it a difficult matter for the football player to keep his college work up to the required standard.

Add to this an extended trip to the coast, which keeps the team away from their college work for a couple of weeks, and the load is too much for them to carry.

Such a condition places emphasis on athletics rather than on the educational feature of the university. It is an unhealthy state and should not be permitted.

Intercollegiate athletics teach coordination for the accomplishment of a task, initiative, self-confidence and self-control.

All these qualities so essential to success in life are drilled into the athlete and they serve well after graduation.

These same qualities are vital in securing an education. The recreation derived makes for better health and improved work in the class room.

However, much of the example and incentive that intercollegiate athletics give, will be wasted if the sport becomes commercialized and professionalized by the present tendency of a great many college teams to barnstorm.

Clean Bill Is Handed Madden

PROOF in the form of affidavits, recent contracts and newspaper clippings have been laid before the Lima Boxing Commission by Earl Smith, one of the promoters in the recent contest here, to show that Art Madden, who fought Jake Gross, was all he was represented to be before the fight.

The affidavits and contracts show that Madden has fought some of the best boys in his class in this section of the country and is not merely a preliminary fighter, but has made good in numerous main-go fights.

TO CREDIT OF GROSS

The impression that the battle here was his first main-go fight is thus proved erroneous and adds to the credit of Gross in stopping him in the second round. In addition to having participated in a number of important fights, Madden is shown to have made good showings in semi-finals in which men of national reputation have appeared as head liners.

Billy Randall, manager of Madden, has supplied Smith with ample proof to bear out his contentions concerning his fighter prior to the fight here a week ago. The documents furnished Smith and turned over to the boxing commission also show that Madden has a just claim, altho not indisputable, to the titles he says are his thru recent decisions.

Randall gives Gross much credit for his work in stopping Madden. A blow Jake delivered in the first round partially blinded the Michigan pusher. The end came shortly thereafter.

ENDS ARGUMENT

With the establishment of these facts, the show staged by the Lima Gym club is given a clean bill and ends argument concerning it. Those acquainted with the facts are giving Gross more credit than has ever been handed him in his home town and Madden is cleared of all imputations that he was not an represented.

The boxing commission has accepted the evidence submitted by Randall thru Smith and has closed the incident.

WILL Leon Goslin, Washington's recruit outfielder, emulates the deeds of Sam Rice?

Goslin is expected to win a regular place in the Washington outfit next season, alongside Rice and Milan.

Sam Rice came to the American League as a pitcher. He had plenty of stuff and seemed to have a great chance to make good.

Lack of control was his worst fault. In between pitching performances, Rice showed that he could hit and was fast on his feet.

George Dauss of the Detroit club is a poor hitter. Dauss broke up a ball game one day that had gone extra innings. He hit one of Sam's fast ones for three bases.

That wallop shaped Rice's career. He went to the dressing room and announced that he was thru as a pitcher, that starting the next day he became an outfielder.

Rice is today one of the most valuable outfielders in the game. He can do everything well.

Goslin, who made such a fine debut as a big leaguer last fall, a home run off Faber that broke up a ball game being one of his best efforts, is figured as a regular.

Goslin made his professional debut like Rice as pitcher. In 1920 he won seven games and lost four for the Columbia club of the South Atlantic League.

Ability to hit the old pill caused him to shift to the outfield.

Goslin has a fine chance to make good. He is a left-hander, a big bushy fellow and takes a "Babe" Ruth wallop at the ball. His fielding can stand some polishing, but he can go get them in his own peculiar style. Goslin appears to have rounded out a fine outfield for Washington.

Big Ten Probe Clears Puzzle

CHICAGO — An examination of western conference rules, the results of which were made public today has cleared up the question raised as to the reason for exoneration of Gordon Locks, star University of Iowa fullback, of charges of professionalism despite the fact that he played summer baseball.

Locke's case differed from those of twenty-two middle western athletes who have been disbarred or face disbarment from collegiate athletics because of participation in professional games, it was pointed out, and the following conference rule covering his case was cited.

A PROVISION CITED "A student may engage in any occupational game during the summer vacation on a team that has no permanent organization, provided such a team is not professional or semi-professional; that written permission has been secured from the proper athletic authorities, and that such permission is for only one team during a vacation."

Locke, it was pointed out, complied with all the provisions of the rule and the athletic authorities of the college were cognizant of the fact he was playing summer baseball and also that he was not violating the conference rules.

K. C. Pin Teams Invade Cleveland

TOLEDO — Thirteen Toledo Knights of Columbus bowling teams will invade Cleveland today to roll in the Ohio State Knights of Columbus tournament, which is now being held there, and for the purpose of landing the big tourney for Toledo in 1923, according to an announcement at the K. of C. headquarters here to-day.

THOMPSON TO BE HAY'S SUCCESSOR

Would Make Good Postmaster General, Forbes Says

"WELL FITTED FOR THE JOB"

Qualifications of Indiana Man Cited by Writer

(By B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — Following developments closely when Mexico's foreign minister arrived in this country next week, Washington having so keenly concerned itself about the affairs of lands at the other end of the earth, it ought now to do something constructive for its neighbor. We've had enough of "watchful waiting." It's now time for helpful action. The prospects, I rather think, are bright.

Somehow, I can't work up any genuine enthusiasm over these early reports of grandiose steelborgs — in the making. Are you, too, from Missouri?

Orders to keep American factories going and American pay envelopes filled cannot be secured successfully in foreign countries by sitting in a swivel chair at home. When the Steel Corporation wanted foreign business it sent James A. Farrell to foreign lands; Standard Oil sent its brainiest executives and salesmen — President Teagle, often crosses the ocean even today; Baldwin did some of his most profitable labors for Bethlehem Steel overseas; Tom Wilson has travelled abroad much in building up his packing business; Sam Vaughan is on the job in Europe now, booking orders for Baldwin Locomotive; and so it goes.

It probably would not occur to you to associate Hawaii with hats. Yet there will arrive in that island within the next few days the heads of one of America's most colossal hat manufacturing establishments, namely, President J. Howell Cummings and Vice-President Frank G. Richards of the John B. Stetson Company. They're after business. And knowing how dynamic a busi-ness-guru Cummings is, I rather think he will not come away empty-handed.

The career of Mr. Cummings is interesting. He began humbly with the famous founder of this unique concern, was early spotted by Mr. Stetson as a "comer" was taken under the veteran hat maker's wing, and developed into an ideal successor as head of the business. It is now a much bigger business than when Mr. Stetson passed on.

Who's to succeed Will Hays as postmaster general? You may have noticed the name of William Boyce hasn't been mentioned. If selected, he would be an ideal man for the job.

Mr. Thompson's career constitutes a typical American factu-riant. Born in the "wild and crazy west" when it was not uncommon for Indians to go on the rampage, young Bill Thompson only became interested in mining. While still a mere lad, he staked out claims for himself and saw to it that the necessary amount of work was done on them to retain ownership. After he went to college, he had to return home and get busy on his claims. Some of them turned out very well, and this enabled the aggressive young westerner to launch on a fruitful career. At a comparatively early age he amassed millions.

One of his characteristics is his insistence upon facts, facts, facts. He takes nothing for granted. He never guesses. He spends very large sums in sending exports to all parts of the world in search of facts. He possesses tremendous energy and has the knack of getting thru mountains of work without fuss. He is a master organizer.

If he can be induced to take the postmaster generalship, we all ought to count ourselves fortunate.

Germany has her Hugo Stinnes, but America has her Henry Ford. Just as Stinnes is now given credit for being the force behind every gigantic new enterprise in Germany, so it is becoming fashion able to link the name of Ford with all sorts of projects. Wall street yesterday had Henry buying enough automobile plants to make him as much the Kingpin of the high-priced variety. As for Mr. Ford is going to do if he gets hold of Muscle Shoals—well, it could be easier to name the things NOT going to do.

It is too bad, isn't it, that there is a limit to what even a super-man can do without going bust physically, mentally, or financially?

The American public are to be safer safeguarded hereafter when they deal with members of the New York Stock Exchange.

That is the meaning of the ringing declaration made last evening by President Seymour L. Cromwell at the annual dinner of the Association of Stock Exchange Firms. In the past Presidents of the Stock Exchange didn't have the habit of taking outsiders — as they regarded the public — into their confidence. Cromwell is modern. He doesn't try to throw a veil or a halo-mystery over the doings of the Stock Exchange. To him, it is a business organization and must be on up-to-date, business-like lines, which means that there must be publicity, not secrecy.

Last evening Mr. Cromwell spoke right from the shoulder. He armed bankers as well as members at they must mend certain of their ways.

There are some of the points he emphasized:

"The time has come when the CHICAGO—Declines took place in the value of wheat Saturday during the early dealings, demands being less urgent than has been the rule of late. The lessened disposition to buy was ascribed to apparent slackening of the upward tendency of quotations in foreign markets. Week-end profit-taking here on the part of holders of wheat counted also as a factor in sending prices down. The opening which varied from 5-8 to 1-3¢ lower, with May 1.24-3.4 to 1.25 and July 1.08 to 1.08 1-8, was followed by a slight further setback, but then by something of a rally.

Corn and oats eased off with wheat. After opening unchanged to 3-8 lower, May 5 to 5.5-1.8, the corn market held within the initial range.

Oats started unchanged to 1-4¢ down, May 39 1.2 to 3.5-5.8 and later sagged a little more.

Upturns in the value of hogs were paralleled by provisions.

The corn close was strong 5-8 to 1-1.8 not higher with May 56 to 56 1-8.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-2 to 1-8 not lower with May 1.25 to 1.25 1-8 and July 1.08 1-4 to 1.08 3-8.

Closing prices ranged as follows:

WHEAT:

May 1.26; July 1.08 1-4.

CORN:

May 56; July 58 1-4.

OATS:

May 38 1-2; July 40 5-8.
